

ADMIN TOOLBAR FROM FRONTEND VIEW

WordPress Frontend View

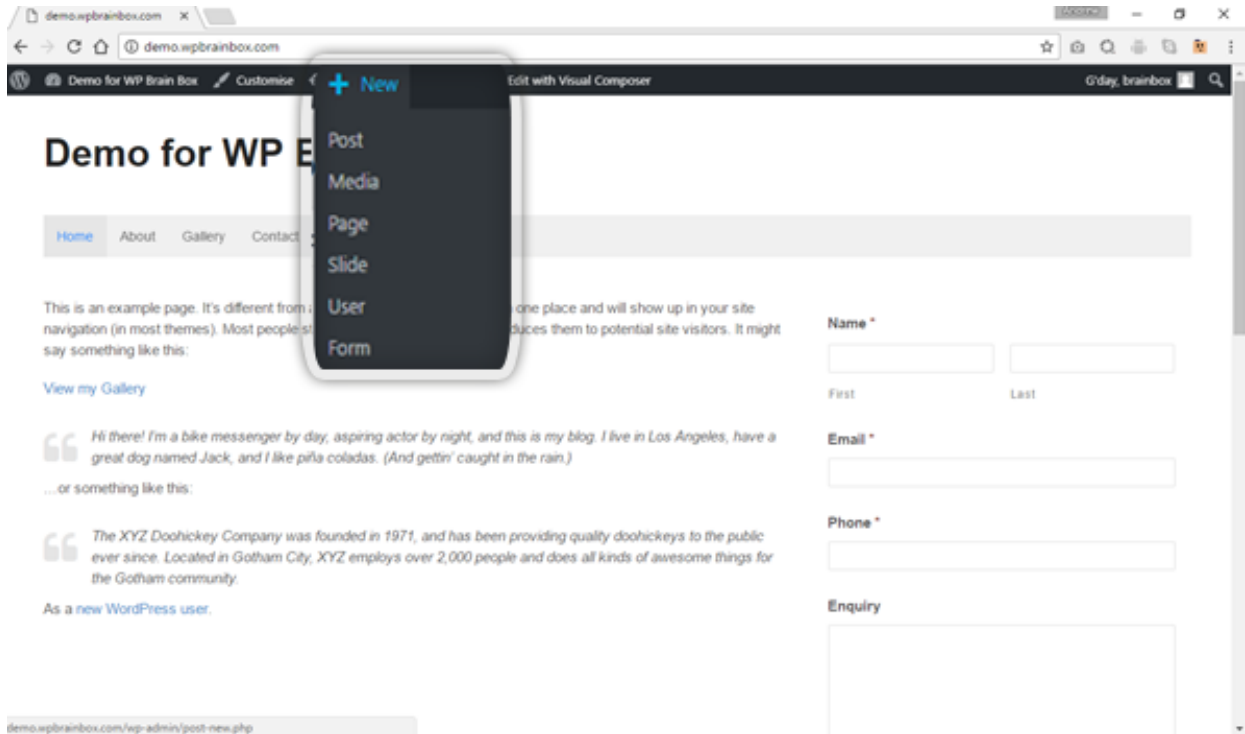

Now, we're logged-in as an administrator to our WordPress website. If we go back to the homepage, there's an extra menu bar at the top of the screen.

Basic Menu

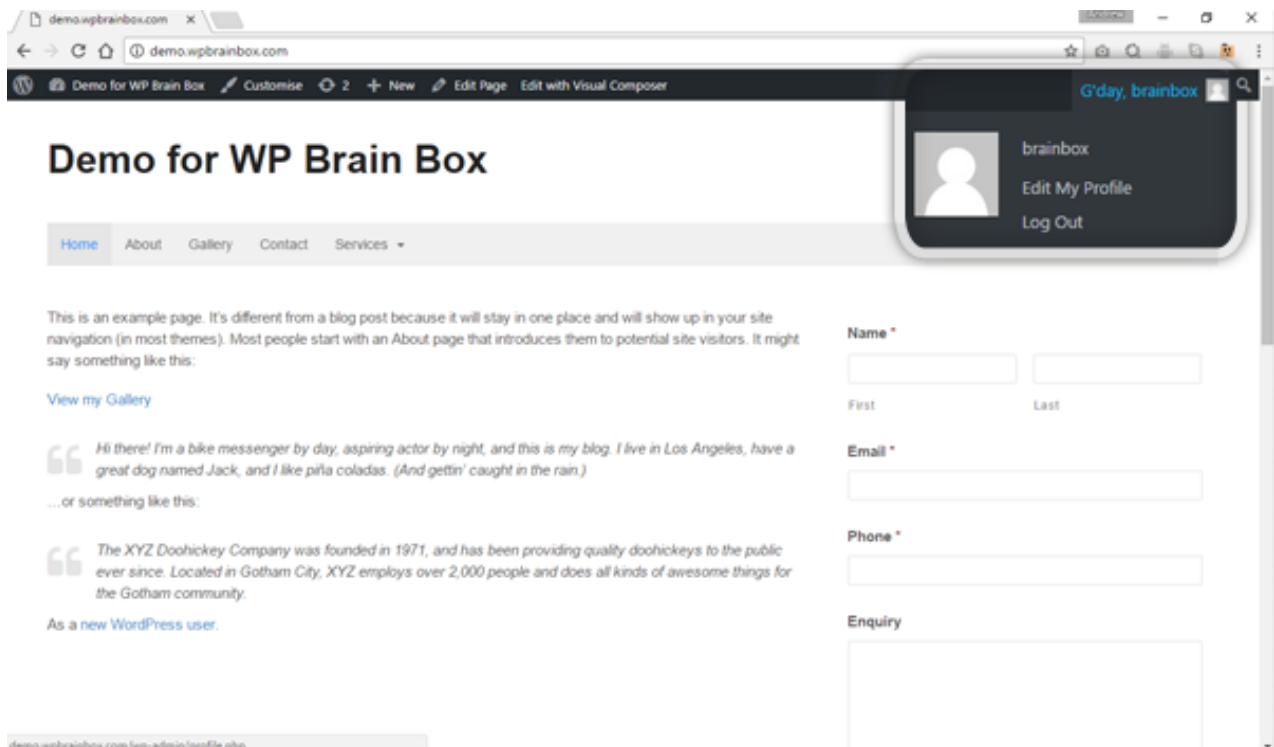

The useful parts here, if we click where it says the website name, that will take us back to the dashboard. It's a great shortcut. If we want to go to our menu system to change our drop-down menus, we can select Menus in the option.

New Menu

There are also few other sections here that are quite useful like the New link to make a new page or post and, also, we've got out edit links as well for changing and editing the page.

Your Profile

Also, on the right, you've got your user thing. So, if you want to logout, you can do it from here too.
